Introduction

Walter Jakob Hollenweger
Dr. W.J. Hollenweger was born of Swiss parents on June 1, 1927 in Antwerp, Belgium. After primary education in Zürich, he started to work in a bank. He participated in the meetings of the Pentecostal Assembly. During 1947-1948 he followed training for the ministry in England. He was active as a Pentecostal preacher in Switzerland, Austria, Germany and France.

Next to this he studied theology in the late fifties. In 1965 he commenced to work for the World Council of Churches in Geneva. In 1966 he became a doctor in theology. In the seventies he was the mission specialist of the WCC. He studied the relation between theology and development work. He was of the opinion that the gospel should not be exported to the Third World, but that mission should rather be a mutual exchange. After his work for the WCC he became professor of mission for the University of Birmingham. Among his books The Pentecostals (1972) and Pentecostalism (1997) are regarded as breaking new ground.

Much of the material in this archival collection is about Pentecostalism. Other areas also drew his attention, like negro spirituals. He kept all kinds of publications from Europe and the United States from the fifties until the eighties about regular and less regular religious and spiritual movements. In view of the positions he held and the fact he collected a lot, it is not surprising that much correspondence can be found in the collection. He frequently corresponded with ecclesiastical organizations, publishers, universities, students, co-workers and colleagues. Some letters were dictated at the last minute to his secretary because he was leaving for a congress or meeting.

After all the material was handed in, it soon became clear that the archive was no longer in the proper order. Many pieces in boxes had a label. Due shortage of time we kept to the order of the pieces as they were found. This can be seen in the inventory list. All double pieces have been removed; of these a list is available. Books and periodicals were handed about the VU Library.

As to the labels, some can be traced in this inventory. The term 'Day File(s)' was retained, with which the copies of the outgoing mail is meant.

In 2002 The Hollenweger Center was established at the VU University. Cooperation between the faculties of Social Science and Theology and Azusa Theological Seminary. Purpose of the Center is the study of the Pentecostal and Charismatic Movements.

In November 2003 three more boxes and six files with archival material were handed about by prof. dr. C. van der Laan. These have been added to the collection.
Second delivery

In May 2005 seven boxes of archival material were handed about. These pieces were added to the collection.

Double pieces
Double pieces and printed materials have been removed. Of the removed items from the first delivery a list has been made, that is present in the first box of the collection.

The numbers in the list refer to the box numbers. A short index to the descriptions has been made.
